

The Best Dressed Women on Earth

Jason Hilburn

The woman who dresses so that others may see her love for Christ, instead of seeing her body (John 14:15; Rom. 13:10-14).

The woman who lets her "light so shine before men," instead of letting her body shine before men (Matt. 5:16).

The woman who dresses in a way that will not be a stumbling block to younger women, or men of any age (Matt. 5:28; 18:6-7).

The woman whose choice of dress is tempered by her strong desire for souls to be saved (Matt. 5:28; 18:6-7; 1 Cor. 10:33; Rom. 13:9-10).

The woman whose clothes clearly show that she cleaves to what is good and abhors what is evil (Rom. 12:9).

The woman who dresses with divine discernment and discretion (Gal. 2:20; Phil. 2:5-9).

The woman who does not dress in the decorum of the devil (Matt. 4:3; 1 Thess. 3:5; James 1:13-16).

The woman whose attire indicates she is not trying to tempt (Matt. 4:3; 1 Thess. 3:5).

The woman who forbids herself to wear the fashion of fornication (Rom. 13:9-10; Gal. 5:19-21).

The woman who avoids the attire of attraction (1 Tim. 2:9; Matt. 18:7; 1 Pet. 4:3-4).

The woman who would be ashamed to dress in "the attire of a harlot" (Prov. 7:10; Jer. 6:15; 1 Tim. 2:9).

The woman who, when she dresses, sees her body as a living sacrifice to God (Rom. 12:1-2; Luke 9:23-25).

The woman "made up" with modesty (1 Tim. 2:9).

The woman who puts away the panoply of pride (Prov. 11:22; 1 Tim. 2:9).

The woman who does not deck herself with decadent dress (1 Tim. 2:9; 1 Pet. 3:3-4).

The woman who will not wear the clothing of conceitedness (Mark 7:20-23).

The woman who does not value the vestures of vanity (Eph. 4:17-24).

The woman wearing the garb of godliness and good works (Matt. 5:16; 1 Tim. 2:10).

The woman who does not adorn herself with the attire of idleness (1 Tim. 5:13).

The woman who does not garb herself with gossip (1 Tim. 5:13).

The woman who casts off works of darkness and puts on the Lord Jesus Christ (Rom. 13:12-14).

The woman who clothes herself with chasteness and fidelity (1 Pet. 3:1-2).

The woman who wears the precious ornament of a meek and quiet spirit (1 Pet. 3:3-4).

The woman who sparkles, not with excessive jewelry, but with an abundance of love for her family (1 Tim. 5:14; Titus 2:4-5; 1 Pet. 3:1-6).

The woman who seeks to glorify God in the way she dresses, instead of glorifying herself (Matt. 5:16; Luke 22:42; 1 Cor. 6:20; 10:31-33).
